D. B. Davies, ex-deputy county clerk of Salt Lake county, was also arraigned, and entered a plea of not guilty through his counsel. The complaint against Davies alleges his offense to have been committed upon the same date and in collusion with Jones. Colonel M. M. Kaighn, attorney for the defendant, and Willard Hanson, assistant county attorney, made lengthy appeals to the court in regard to the matter of bail, which was finally fixed in the sum of $2,000. The case was continued without date, but will be taken up next week in all probability.

Getting Away From Issue.

Yesterday's discussion was rendered interesting by several political cracks which were made and by the apparent ease with which members twisted—in some instances nearly in two—Biblical quotations to attain their cads.

The house had hardly convened when the report of the joint bounty committee was submitted for approval. The report of the clause which recommended the passage of Senate Bill No. 10.

While the report was undergoing the change in the hands of the committee, wilson made a motion that the speaker with a like committee of three to confer with a like committee of three to confer with a like committee from the senate and secure information as to the bounty laws of Jiaho. Wyoming. Nevada, Colorado and Arizona, this information to be used in the framing of a new bounty laws of Jaho and Wyoming.

Thompson proposed a substitute motion, giving the senate one member and the house two members on such a committee. "It was scripturesque" was the way one member put yesterday's session in the lower house. The observation sums not good fruit. The tree that "yielded not good fruit" began the run on the good book and Wooten ended it when he voted against the bounty repeal. He explained his vote by saying, or quoting, that "He that judgeth hastily judgeth not wisely," leaves, wilted, bruised, and bound on the face and back of the neck, will drive away Neuralgia. And a Nut-meg bored and tied around the neck, will keep it away—at least, so say many mountaineers. Onions, sliced, pounded and placed in a cloth and laid over the affected part, will draw out inflammation. A red Onion halved and one part slightly secoped out and the cup placed over a Carbuncle or Boil will speedily remove the pus. There are many of these similar remedies in Nature's labratory located in the woods and along the highways but they cannot be had at all times as few people know how to distinguish the different medicinal herbs from those that are poisonous and dangerous. To buy all of them from your druggist would require a great outlay of money. All the curative powers of the foregoing are combined in the new discovery—

Mothers Should Watch the Development of Their Daughters-Interesting Experiences of Misses Borman and Mills.

Every mother possesses information which is of vital interest to her young daughter.

Too often this is never imparted or is withheld until serious harm has resulted to the growing girl through her ignorance of nature's mysterious and wonderful laws and penalties.

Girls' over-sensitiveness and modesty often puzzle their mothers and baffle physicians, as they so often withhold their confidence from their mothers and conceal the symptoms which ought to be told to their physician at this critical period.

The Beef Trust is a gigantic burglar, which has broken into every home in America and commits robbery each

The Beef Trust's robbery of the people has been more arrogant and shameless than even the crimes of "Frenzied Finance," which Mr. Lawson is revealing with such awakening power. Every dinner table in our whole country has been made more costly by the pitiless coterie of plundering gentlemen known as the Beef Trust.

CHARLES EDWARD RUSSELL, of Chicago, one of the soundest and most brilliant of American editors, begins to the February number of a series of articles which will lay bare to the bone the astounding details of this universal and long-endured larceny.

He shows how the Beef Trust has fastened its unyielding grip on the natural food supply of America, and how it taxes both the producer on the prairies and the consumer in his home.

He shows how the Beef Trust, insatiable and defiant, has jeered at the laws, has terrorized great railways, has taxed more commodities than all other trusts combined, and plans to control the price of every food product grown in the United States.

These articles will startle and stir the nation. The Lawson chapters on the crimes of "Frenzied Finance" are their only parallel in current literature. Mr. Lawson's articles will continue in each issue of

EMPLOYES GIVE DANCE.

Diversion.

The largest dance which has been held at Christensen's hall this winter was given by the employes of the Keith-O Brien store last evening, more than 120 couples being present. The decorations and draperles were furnished from the store, as were also the potted ferns. Numerous cozy corners here and there about the hall invited the dancers.

Besides the employees, there were present many of the friends of the latter. The Billic club attended in a body. The dance was in reality the forerunner of the time of the winter and in the coming summer months when the usual half-holidays will be given by the employers.
